What is the Pre-Law (PLW) Thematic Minor?

The Pre-Law Thematic (PLW) Minor is designed to prepare you for a career in law. You will have the opportunity to research topics, analyze information, and think critically.

The philosophy of the PLW Minor is to prepare students for the Law School Admission process, including the components of the Law School Admissions Test (LSAT). These courses are not mandatory for law school admission, but are recommended for students interested in law school.

The courses in the PLW Minor have been selected to address the following sections reflected in the LSAT and law school admissions requirements, as recommended by the American Bar Association https://www.americanbar.org/groups/legal\_education/resources/pre\_law/. We encourage you to choose courses from at least 2 areas below that address these key areas.

- Logical Reasoning
  - Analytical Reasoning and Problem Solving
  - Critical Reading Comprehension and Research
  - Writing and Editing
  - Public Service and Promoting Justice
  - Oral Communication and Listening
  - Organization and Management
  - Relationship-building and Collaboration
  - Background Knowledge
    - Historical, Political, Social, Cultural, Economic/Financial and more

The PLW Minor can prepare you for a law school application and success in law school through:

- Opportunities to interact with diverse faculty, who may write you letters of recommendation
- Extensive reading and writing experience
- Hone your logical and analytical reasoning skills
- Develop your research and writing skills
- Practice self-reflection and writing about oneself and one's own story
- Composing a logically or legally structured argument

The PLW Minor is not a substitute for a legal internship or law-related career experience. Internships or law-related employment can be valuable tools to determine if a legal career is right for you.
