Turn Your Life Around (T.Y.L.A.) is an Outpatient Recovery Center for those who have hit a speed bump in their life. Our clients range from those who struggle with homelessness, to those struggling from substance abuse. Our agency provides educational and counseling services for people that are involved in the court and are going through a probation-type process. Diversion classes offer interns the opportunity to gain skills interacting with people in our local community who need a hand getting back on their feet. The diversion sessions are for those who have a misdemeanor offense and are aged from 18-26. Turn Your Life Around has recently expanded to include providing clothing and necessary hygiene products to the homeless community of Tucson and those recently released from prison.

T.Y.L.A is a growing agency that has the desire to expand to as much of the Tucson community as possible, therefore, fundraising and outreach opportunities are possible tasks that interns may be asked to assist with. We are looking for students with availability throughout the week including Saturdays and have positions available in Spring, Summer, and Fall. Interns will assist clients as they fulfill their court mandated consequences while helping them through their recovery process. Tasks include helping with clinical file keeping and maintenance, providing a healthy and friendly atmosphere for clients to thrive in, assisting clients in figuring out the appropriate services they need, and reporting progress of completion to the courts. A large part of what we do also includes assisting the homeless population with resume writing. Interns will have the opportunity to observe support groups and clinical therapy groups.

We are looking for Junior and Senior College of Social and Behavioral Sciences students who are prepared to work hard, learn fast, and think quickly. Interns must feel comfortable on the phone and in person with clients while always providing a non-judgmental and encouraging environment.

To apply, email your resume and short paragraph explaining your interest to Cheryl Holland at adminassist@tylahelps.com. This internship is eligible for SBS 393 credit: https://sbs.arizona.edu/sbs-393-internships
